Selected responses:

What were the strengths of my instructor's course management and teaching style?

- "He was very understanding about the class dynamic, always accessible and willing to help or go over questions or difficult topics."
- "I liked how you repeated a lot of the material especially like the definitions to help us remember, it was a good and effective teaching style. I also liked you how you explained things, you explain in a very clear and easily understandable way."
- "The instructor had spaced out the material in a good fashion so that we were learning a new subtopic within the course each day, and then it all came together on the final day with our project."
- "I think we learned a lot of baseline economics ideas which will better prepare us for going into college and or economics classes that we may be taking next year. Additionally, I liked how he made us reflect on each paper we read on a worksheet."
- "I like how the instructor kept the class engaged throughout by asking thoughtful and deep questions."

What did I most appreciate about how my instructor interacted with students?

- "I received very helpful feedback during the early stages of my project, which gave me a new view on how I might want to approach things. Because of that, I was able to make a much stronger research proposal than I had previously mapped out."
- "He was a really good teacher and taught in a way we understood even some of the heavier content. He also encouraged us to participate and ask questions"
- "I liked that my instructor made sure to meet with everyone one-on-one during the process of making our projects, as it made me feel more comfortable with asking questions as I was able to make sure I was on the right track and prepared for presentation."
- "You answered all the questions, and I loved the way you explained things, it made a lot of sense and helped me learn more. You were very nice and open to ideas."
